Celina, in the Northwest corner of Collin County, was not established until 1876, but settlers came in the area at a much earlier date. In October, 1879 a little settlement began to form a few miles southwest of the present-day Celina. John T. Mulkey, Celina's first postmaster, renamed the town after Celina, Tennessee. The Methodist Church was built in 1880, and also doubled as the school for a while. By 1885, a general store, mill, and a drug store had been opened in "Old Celina". The entire town was relocated to the new railroad right-of-way 20 years later by placing homes and businesses on rollers and pulling them across muddy fields.

Deadline to submit is October 31, 2022.

CC Coalition Member The Heritage Guild of Collin County The Heritage Village at Chestnut Square

The guild was founded in 1974 by a group of ladies who fought to keep two historic homes from being demolished by the city, and Chestnut Square was formed. We are located just 2 blocks off the downtown McKinney Square. Located at 315 S. Chestnut Street, McKinney, Tx 75069.

We are a nonprofit living history museum comprised of 9 historic homes and buildings including the oldest house in McKinney. Three homes and two other structures are indigenous to the property; the 1854 John Faires House (the oldest standing home in McKinney), the 1864 Taylor Inn, 1918 Brimer Anderson Grocery and the turn of the century Foote Baptist Church were moved onsite, and the reproduction one rooms school house represents the 1890's JB Wilmeth Schoolhouse.

Today, as part of the downtown McKinney Cultural District, we offer public & Private tours, school field trips, the year-round McKinney Farmers Market and unique events for all ages throughout the year. We support local small businesses, artisans and farmers, and enhance tourism and the quality of life in McKinney and beyond.
