A project was recently approved to change out the existing security system card readers throughout the entire County in an effort for improved safety measures. This project was overseen by the IT Department. George King, Utilities Manager/Facilities Maintenance, played an intricate role in getting this project implemented. Greg Elliott, IT Department, who oversaw this project, stated that George was extremely knowledgeable of the SecuraDyne System and demonstrated greater knowledge than the consultants working on this project. Due to his knowledge of the system and the work required to complete the intended project scope, George was able to identify that the County could avoid purchasing additional hardware and shift planned work from one location to another. This resulted in a savings of approximately $3500.00. George also saved the County approximately $2200.00 by implementing a temporary fix to bridge the gap while the employee ID badges were being swapped out. The County was saved a total of $5700.00.
