Why the Honoree is receiving a GEM Award including dates:

Exceptional Efforts in Disease Investigation and Mitigation (September/October 2019)—

In recent weeks, the Epidemiology department has faced the challenge of a unique disease investigation affecting a variety of stakeholders in the community. Due to the time sensitivity and nature of the disease, Daphne and the Epidemiology team have worked tirelessly to ensure all public health evaluations and interventions were performed promptly. Daphne personally assisted in working through obstacles, often after normal work hours, to help the patient and other affected individuals to expedite the processing of critical lab work and obtain appropriate medication. Daphne's self-sacrifice to support the team was invaluable in responding to this event.
