Julie has done an outstanding job assisting with the work required for the 2018 County budget. Julie contributed significantly to the preparation of the budget presentations on August 14, 2017 and ensured the presentations went smoothly. In addition, Julie prepared a presentation on a medical issue even though she had no background on the material being presented. Not only was it well researched and presented, she completed the task in less than 2 days.

Julie was also instrumental in the design and presentation of the new compensation process that was approved during budget. This project required massive amounts of work. Her superior computer skills ensured that our new process would work smoothly.
