Officers Ryan Yeager and Larry Coffey regularly go above and beyond in their job duties. Clearly, they care about their work and take the time to do it correctly. Officer Yeager and Coffey are people you could go to for any assistance, and they would do everything in their means to get the job done. Both officers recently helped with volunteering for an extra assignment, all while maintaining their current workload. Recently, they were called to assist our Public Affairs Section with a community event that required volunteering their time and shifting their work schedules to complete their regular duties. When they were called, there was no hesitation, and they even took part in helping coordinate the event. In doing this, they were able to make a positive impact in our communities and help build trust and respect with the public we serve. Officer Yeager and Officer Coffey are valuable team members; their positive attitudes help us all continue to feel motivated.
