The detention facility is governed by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards and requirements involving officer to inmate ratios are legally mandated for compliance. Sergeant Matthew Dyer has volunteered to work in the detention facility to ensure that the legally mandated ratios are upheld and fellow detention officers can have time away from post assignment as a supervisor. Sergeant Dyer has worked 566 plus hours of overtime year-to-date in 2023. This breaks down to approximately 48 additional workdays volunteered in one of the most demanding positions within Collin County. Sergeant Dyer's dedication to the customers of Collin County, and peers within the detention facility, demonstrates true leadership and character within the Sheriff's Office.
