Why the Honoree is receiving a GEM Award including dates:

I would like to nominate Criminal Justice Information Specialist, Randie Lindsey for a GEM award.

Randie is one of two CJISpecialists assigned to manage extraditions. She works hand-in-hand with the Sgt. and Captain over the Fugitive Transport deputies to coordinate the transport of inmates back to Collin County for prosecution. In 2019, our division processed over 13,000 warrants – of which resulted in approximately 1,200 fugitives needing to be transported back here from locations all over the United States. Even with the restrictions we have been under during the COVID pandemic, our division has still processed approximately 10,000 warrants and, as of the end of August, have coordinated approximately 1,000 transports. Our workload continues to grow and the transports are often complex. Randie works hard, day in and day out to make the transports a smooth process for everyone involved. She has built a rapport with individuals from other departments, which helps her in managing her very demanding workload. She seeks out ways to improve processes, and does her job with a great attitude. She is always willing to help wherever she is needed.

Her ability to multi-task and complete the volume of work that comes across her desk with the attention to detail it requires is an asset to our department and she should be recognized.
